

IPX1031® STRENGTH, SECURITY & EXPERTISE

When selecting a Qualified Intermediary, many factors should be taken into account. The two most critical factors for evaluation are:

- 1) Safety & Security of Exchange Funds
- 2) Expertise & Competency of Staff

SECURITY CONTROLS & ASSURANCES

Safety and security of exchange funds is a matter of paramount importance. IPX1031® routinely provides customers with the following superior safety and security controls for exchange funds:

- $100 Million Fidelity Bond
- $50 Million Written Guaranty of Performance
- $30 Million in Errors & Omissions Insurance
- IPX1031® is a wholly owned subsidiary of Fidelity National Financial (NYSE:FNF)
 - Largest provider of title insurance services in the world
 - The only Fortune 500 title provider
- As part of a large publicly traded corporation, we are subject to audits, controls and a level of financial transparency about the entire organization that is not required of privately held businesses
- Exchange funds are held in segregated accounts for the benefit of the named Exchanger using the Exchanger's taxpayer identification number. Our standard investment vehicle is a separate interest-bearing bank account for each exchange. Clients receive bank statements directly from the bank.
- Regular reconciliation of exchange fund balances by our separate banking department as well as by the FNF corporate trust accounting department
- Disbursement of exchange funds requires written authorization of the Exchanger
- All disbursements require dual authorization and are controlled by our Banking Division. Sales and administrative staff have no authority or ability to transfer funds.
